

Organisational Consulting and Coaching your organisation's pathway to transform, lead and empower

Ducidium

Who we are

We are a small group of people driven to help many people succeed.

We exist to provide individuals, teams and organisations with the understanding, abilities and drive to confidently transform, lead, and empower.

What we do

We accompany organisations and teams to create the environments that allow and inspire people to perform.

We help individuals cultivate agency, realise potential and flourish.

How we do it

First we ask some cracking questions and just listen to what is said.

A picture of culture, norms, beliefs, values, biases, perceptions, frustrations and desires will emerge.

Then we ask: "What needs to change?"

Once people agree on what that is...

We have ignition.

How we do it

Next, together with the leadership members and team representatives we plot the path towards success.

We combine the fundamental ingredients of your organisation or team together with Ducidium's organisational leadership and self-leadership strategies.

This establishes the unique pathway aligned to your organisation's desired values, culture and performance.

Frequently asked questions

How long do engagements last?

Sometimes clients just want to build a particular skill within their teams, for example coaching behaviours. With a small team this may total just 2-3 days spread over 1-2 weeks.

Other times clients wish to establish organisational leadership culture across the company. In such cases with an initial cohort of 24 lead participants committing to a full learning program, the engagement can range between 10-15 days spread over several months.

How is the Return on Investment measured?

Step one of our process is Baseling. The whole point of this is to help clients accurately understand their entire landscape before we do anything. Without knowing where we start, we can't measure how much we've grown.

ROI is then measured against the clients desired impacts which could include elements such as: higher engagement results, consistency in communication, reduction of re-work, feedback and speak-up culture, satisfaction and wellbeing, time, cost and quality metrics.

Frequently asked questions

How much does it cost?

Costs always vary depending on the client's desired outcomes and length of engagement. However, some of the base costs for common elements requested by clients include:

Full Organisational Leadership Learning Program $4,475* per participant
Individual coaching engagements $395* per session
Custom workshop design and facilitation $1950* per day

Can the solutions be adapted to client's needs?

Yes. We accompany you to where you are trying to get to. We tailor our services to ensure the solution meets the need of your organisation and the people within it.

What size organisations do you support?

From small start-ups to established multination corporations. The most important factor is that enough people within the organisation develop the capability, motivation and support to continue the change. We can help you establish the core champions that will continue to move your organisation towards its goal.
